

Editor's Comment:

I have checked the paper.

The paper is well written, but I am wondering whether the paper should be "minireview paper".

The paper is not a summary of published papers, rather collection of the artist MARWAN AL-ALLAN.

As the referee Alan Garfield commented, it looks like a political manifesto, rather than a academic paper.

I agree that published paper of ARJASS could include political opinions of the authors.

The paper however may likely be " short communications" or " Policy Papers".
